

SHOPS MOLESTED BY SOME GUN PLAY

Matt Brison Interferes With Mose Caldwell's Domesticity

Whereupon Mose Opens Fire With
Big Colt's Revolver and There Is Scampering.

NEITHER ONE FOUND LATER

A rapid fire pistol fusillade following Matt Brison's advent into the privacy of Mose Caldwell's domestic life created more excitement at the Illinois Central shops this morning at 7:30 o'clock than the blowing up of Moulder Bob Fisher's "skimmer" when he dipped it into molten brass, forgetting to empty the water. Business was practically suspended in some departments. Employees sought safety behind brick walls, steel tanks or any other safe barricade against the bullets, and even Special Policeman Dick Tolbert made "cannon ball" time to gain a point of safety until the smoke of battle cleared.

Both principals are colored men employed in the Illinois Central round house. Mose was not working this morning, and Brison called at his house, a short distance from the rear of the shops on Washington street. Matt knocked on the door, and receiving no answer is alleged to have used a brick in persuading the door to open. The next seen of Matt was when he burst as suddenly from the rear of the house as he entered, only he was shoeless. Following close on his heels came Mose, pulling and tugging at the rear of his trousers. Matt made straight for the open shop gate. Mose finally succeeded in getting what he was after from his hip pocket, and in another second had flashed a shining Colt's revolver with an eight-inch barrel.

"Fair warnin', niggah," he cried out as he plunged madly ahead. "Ise gwine to shoot," and one sharp report rang out, the bullet flying over the fugitive's head and breaking into the pipe fitting shops. Foreman Ed Wheeler was in the shop, and realizing the danger ordered all hands to the floor and immediately twelve pipe fitters and helpers were groveling in the dirt, squirming snake fashion away from the door.

Four more shots rang out in rapid succession and bullets whizzed into and by the pipe shops, all fortunately going wide of their mark. They served as an incentive for greater speed, and turning suddenly between the planing mill and freight car shops Matt, after knocking over several trucks and standing engine smoke stacks, sought a straightaway track south. He continued running in great bounds and three seconds after his flying form passed the planing mill Policeman Dick Tolbert's form emerged from inside a "bad order" boiler and set out after the fugitive.

Mose stood as if stupefied, smoking pistol still in hand, and watched Tolbert go after the one who was "shot at." Turning, he returned home and when the patrol wagon and a line of blue coats pulled up a short time later he was nowhere to be found.

Tolbert went over hills, through hollows and ravines, but the fleet barefooted fugitive was too much for him, and when the passenger depot was reached he dived into the dense woods.

BY HUGE CHUNK OF COAL.

While standing at a switch preparing to throw a cut of cars into a siding Oakley Doolin, an Illinois Central switchman, was knocked senseless this morning at 11 o'clock by a lump of coal, which fell from the car in the shop yards. It struck him over the right eye and inflicted a deep wound, which was dressed at the Illinois Central hospital.

HARVEST OF DEATH FOR JULY FOURTH

Ordinance Committee Promotes Tetanus Epidemic

Too Late Now to Enact Ordinance
Prohibiting Sale of Deadly Toy
Pistols.

FIVE WERE KILLED HOLIDAYS

No relief is promised the citizens of Paducah from the toy pistol this Fourth of July. Several months ago the ordinance of the general council committee was instructed to bring in an ordinance prohibiting the sale of the toy pistols, and the only thing heard from it since was the asking of more information as to whether the cap pistols should be included. Alderman P. H. Stewart, the father of the ordinance, was quick to give the information, but the ordinance has not made its appearance before the council. Only fifteen days remain until the glorious Fourth and the intervening time is too short in which to pass the ordinance now Paducah must suffer the same danger of fatal accidents this Fourth as before, because the sale of the deadly toy pistol has not been stopped. Members of the ordinance committee have not held a meeting in some time and appear not to know much about the ordinance.

Dealers in toy pistols will supply any demand made on them July 4. They appear to regard the proposed ordinance as only the annual talk of abolishing the weapons. However, a number of the dealers may clear out their present supply and will await developments before replenishing their stock. Wholesale dealers have a good supply on hand and as they sell to the small towns of this section do not fear they will have a white elephant on their hands. This does not apply to all, as a few hardware dealers do not carry in stock the pistols.

Last holidays five little children in Paducah and Metropolis died from lockjaw directly produced by wounds injected with the powder used in the cartridge pistols and loaded canes. There is an ordinance against the firing of these in the city, and the Sun, following the dreadful loss of life among the little ones, instituted a crusade to stop the sale. Alderman P. H. Stewart introduced a motion to have an ordinance prepared prohibiting the sale of toy pistols. Other ordinances have been ordered, prepared, introduced and adopted since then.

WATERMELONS ON PADUCAH MARKET

Watermelons, the first of the season, were on sale this morning at the market. They came all the way from Florida and the price was such that the youth with a taste for melon could only get a slice. But that was a taste. Cantaloupes have been on sale by local produce shippers for the last week, but this morning was the first appearance of the luscious fruit. Local melons are many weeks late owing to the backward season. The retail price of melons this morning ranged from 35 cents to 50 cents.

I. C. Employees Will Ask For Revival of Annual Picnic

INTERURBAN MAY BE BUILT AT ONCE

Directors Meet in This City
Tonight For Business and Hope to Let Contract For Construction This Month

RIGHTS OF WAY ARE SECURED

Directors of the projected Kentucky and Ohio River Interurban Railroad company will meet here tonight for the purpose of completing plans for building the road between Paducah and Cairo, Ill. F. N. Whitesides is here from Franklin, Ind., and L. B. Whitesides, of Chicago, will arrive tonight to take part in the meeting.

"We have met with great encouragement from Paducah people and others interested in the project," said Mr. Whitesides today, "and we expect to let contracts in a few weeks for the construction of our line. It will require nine months to complete."

The road connects Paducah and Cairo with a branch to Wickliffe, possibly through Barlow. A ferry will be used between East Cairo and Cairo. The towns on the route are Maxon Mills, Grahamville, Ingleside, Bandana, Oscar, Halloway, East Cairo and Cairo. Later an extension will run through southern Illinois.

The rights of way have been secured.

If higher officials act favorably on a request for transportation, an "off day" and a special train of cars, annual Illinois Central shop employees' picnics, which were a few years ago so popular, will be given again. At noon today a general meeting was held in the planing mill of the shops and preliminary steps were taken towards petitioning higher officials for cars and an off day and employees believe they will secure all asked.

Until the year following the fatal Dawson Springs accident when a party of men, women and children were run down by a freight train, the picnics had been enjoyable annual events. Long trains bearing employees and their families, were taken to Kuttawa, Dawson or other place selected for the gathering. But when the fatal accident occurred, the annual picnic was declared off indefinitely, and following a general favorable discussion to resume them, the meeting today was called.

A committee was at noon appointed to confer with Master Mechanic R. E. Palmer, who will in turn be requested to confer with higher officials. It is the intention of employees to have the picnic a few days in advance of August 8, so that the road will have cars available.

FARLEY WINNER ON FIRST BALLOT

Indications Point to Republican
Love Feast at Louisville
Tomorrow With Willson Only
Candidate Up

WEST KENTUCKY HAS OWN WAY

Louisville, Ky., June 18.—(Special)—Capt. Ed Farley is a sure winner on the first ballot for state treasurer and Judge James Breathitt can have the attorney generalship if he will accept. Willson is the only candidate for governor and the convention will be a love feast. Cox is a certainty. A fight is on for auditor. West Kentucky is leading and will get everything the delegates ask for.

A number of delegates left today for Louisville to attend the Republican convention held there tomorrow. The following left from here: Magistrate John J. Blech, W. T. Miller, John Williamson, Major Ashcraft. Others who passed through today were: J. A. Miller, of Wickliffe; W. A. Berry, of Oscar; T. G. Blankenship, of Barlow; D. J. Cummings, of Barlow; R. A. Russell, of Kevil; P. Jones, of LaCenter; Lon Cothron, of Smithland, and W. I. Champion, of Smithland.

The following names were omitted from the list of delegates appointed to the Republican convention at Louisville today, in yesterday's issue: James P. Smith, J. J. Reid, G. H. Burks, C. W. Merrilweather and Harry Kellar. Capt. Ed Farley and a party went to Louisville last night to open headquarters.

W. J. HARAHAN GOES WITH ERIE

Mystery Surrounds His Action in Severing Connection With
Illinois Central and He Says
Nothing

NO OTHER CHANGES IN STAFF

Chicago, June 18.—W. J. Harahan, fourth vice-president of the Illinois Central and son of J. T. Harahan, president of the same road, has resigned from the company's employ. It is understood that he will accept a position with the Erie road, but in what capacity could not be ascertained today.

Considerable mystery surrounds the change in Illinois Central ranks, beyond the admission made by an official of the company today, that Mr. Harahan was going to the Erie. W. J. Harahan was in his office the greater part of the day, but denied himself to those who wished to make inquiry regarding his change of position. Late in the afternoon it was stated that he had taken his family to Atlantic City, where he would spend his vacation.

It was rumored that he is to take charge of the belt line which the Erie will build around New York city, and another rumor had it that he is to be vice-president of the company in charge of operation, the place formerly held by Daniel Willard, now of the Burlington.

It was emphatically denied that there had been any friction between the president of the road and the vice-president. It was denied that there are to be other changes on the Illinois Central staff.

Mr. Harahan started his railroad career as a messenger boy with the Louisville and Nashville, and came with the Illinois Central in 1905 as roadmaster of the Potlatch division.

CAUGHT BY ST. LOUIS POLICE

St. Louis, Mo., June 18.—(Special)—Gardner L. Gray, who says he came to St. Louis from Paducah ten days ago, was arrested Monday for alleged blackmail upon Fred Heckman. WHAT IS MEANING OF CHAUTAUQUA?

Little Girl Answers Literally
According to Lights

Interesting and Varied Features on Daily Program and Brilliant
Things in Store.

SENATOR CARMACK FRIDAY

"What does Chautauqua mean, anyhow?"
"Why a man named Shaw talks—Chautauqua."

This clever play on the name of Mr. J. H. Shaw, the Chautauqua promoter, is original with little Miss Elizabeth Quick, of 822 Jefferson street, and was given in all seriousness. It is literally true as well as figuratively so, as Mr. Shaw talks both before and after and sometimes in between.

As if resigning the morning sessions to the children, the grown-ups were not as much in evidence this morning when Miss Hemenway lead the Boys and Girls club, as yesterday. The children, however, attended largely and were delighted with the club exercises and games, with a lecture by Mr. Speed on "Wasp." Already they are becoming observant of nature and many kinds of insects and other kinds of field life are being brought to Mr. Speed. The walk abroad will be at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Nearly all those who heard "The Power of an Idea," by the Rev. H. S. Bigelow yesterday afternoon are in attendance this afternoon to hear him on "The Life Worth Living," and they brought many with them, as he made a fine impression in his opening number. After Dr. Bigelow at 2:30 o'clock the Chautauqua Concert company will give their second number at 4 o'clock. The musical features begun yesterday have been looked forward to and are drawing well in the afternoon.

Again at 7:30 o'clock the concert company, Misses Hemenway, Metzger and Carroll, will entertain the crowds for half an hour, when Mr. Gideon Carl, who made a favorable impression last night in character impersonations, will take the platform for the remainder of the evening. He has a most interesting program for this evening, embracing wide character impersonations.

Coming Humorist.

Well into the second week of the Chautauqua anticipation is pointing the view forward to Mr. Beauchamp, the humorist, who appears first tomorrow afternoon, and to former Senator E. W. Carmack, of Tennessee, the brilliant orator. Knowing that the seating capacity of the Chautauqua has been filled almost with the preceding numbers, the auditorium committee is preparing to handle the record crowd that is certain to greet Senator Carmack. More seats will be installed and the ends of the auditorium may be extended. President Wallace, of the Chautauqua association, probably will introduce Senator Carmack.

The Rev. W. H. Fineschreiber, of Davenport, Ia., the talented rabbi, who will lecture next Sunday afternoon on "The Parliament of Man," arrived today and is staying with his father-in-law, Mr. H. Wallerstein. Dr. L. E. Young is in charge of the hospital tent today and Dr. Horace Rivers will be in charge again tonight.

Mrs. James P. Sleeth and assistants yesterday cleared for the Woman's club $52.50. Mrs. Jake Wallerstein is chairman today and great preparations are being made for the club supper tonight. The tent is being decorated with flags and bunting and green flowering plants.

Dr. Young will have charge of the hospital tent at the Chautauqua today and Dr. Horace Rivers tonight.

Burglars cut a hole in the panel of the door in their rear of Dr. Ed Gilson's drug store, Ninth street and Broadway, Sunday morning, but did not succeed in gaining access to the store.

Left there the writer would make charges regarding Heckman and his wife. The letter was turned over to the police, who filled a cigar box with bricks and left it as directed. Detectives saw a young negro enter the drug store and carry the box away. Gray met the boy, gave him 15 cents and, opening the box, was walking away when he was arrested. He admitted writing the letter and said that the scheme was all his own. Heckman says he and his wife do not live together.

A man named Gardner L. Gray has been engaged in the manufacture of the Standard Soot Destroyer here. He left the city about two weeks ago and is in St. Louis. He was expected here this week. The Gardner L. Gray who is known here was considered a man of probity.

S.S.S. REMOVES BLOOD HUMORS

When the blood is pure and healthy the skin will be soft, smooth and free from eruptions, but when the blood becomes infected with some unhealthy humor the effect is shown by rashes, eruptions, boils and pimples, or other disfiguring and annoying skin disease. The skin is provided with countless pores and glands which act as a drainage system to rid the body of impurities through the perspiration that is constantly passing through these little tubes. There are other glands that pour out on the skin an oily substance to keep it soft and pliable. When the blood becomes filled with humors and acids these are thrown off through the pores and glands, burning and irritating the skin and drying up the natural oils so that we have not only Acne, Eczema, Salt Rheum, etc., but such dry, scaly skin affections as Tetter, Psoriasis, and kindred troubles. The treatment of skin troubles with salves, washes, lotions, etc., is not along the right line. True, such treatment relieves some of the itching and discomfort and aids in keeping the skin clear, but it does not reach the real cause of the trouble, which are humors in the blood, and it can therefore have no real curative effect on these skin affections. S. S. S., a gentle acting and perfect blood purifier, is the best and quickest treatment. It goes down into the blood and removes the humors, fiery acids and poisons from the circulation, cools the overheated blood, and by sending a fresh stream of nourishing blood to the skin permanently cures skin diseases of every character. S. S. S. is made entirely of health producing roots, herbs and barks, and is an absolutely safe remedy for young or old. S. S. S. cures Eczema, Acne, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Psoriasis, and all other disagreeable and unsightly eruptions of the skin. Special book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice desired furnished free to all who write.

Morris is at present engaged in the breeding of game chickens on a scientific scale with a view of breeding them the size of pigeons for the purpose of introducing them at fashionable banquets and having cocking mains in the center of the banquet table. The first trial of this innovation will be given in New York in December.

Cummins is for Revision.

Pittsburg, June 18.—Governor Cummins, of Iowa, delivered the principal address last night at the meeting of the Pittsburg board of trade. Mr. Cummins spoke on "Reciprocity," and William R. Corwin, secretary of the New York committee of the American Reciprocal League also made an address. Cummins characterized the placing of duties upon many things as an American habit and said: "I stand just as firmly and as persistently for reduction in some duties in order that the home buyer may be protected as I do for reciprocal arrangements that will enlarge our sales abroad."

SMUGGLING

IS THE CHARGE AGAINST COMMANDER WINSLOW.

Who Took Ashore Cases of Champagne, Cigars and Curses—Beginning of Crusade.

San Diego, Cal., June 18.—Commander Cameron McR. Winslow, one of the wealthiest officers in the navy, the personal friend of President Roosevelt and commanding the cruiser Charleston, who on Saturday was arrested by customs officers charged with smuggling in champagne, cigars and other dutiable articles, was released under special orders from the treasury department.

The customs officers insist that the seizure of Commander Winslow's goods is the beginning of a great naval scandal and that they will be able to show that naval officers assigned to shore duty are accustomed to lay in quantities of champagnes, wines, cigars and other dutiable goods of a like character.

Chief Customs Officer Barnes was suspicious when he saw the first cases coming ashore from the Charleston and asked Commander Winslow what the boxes contained. Commander Winslow according to Barnes said the cases contained household goods all consigned to Commander Winslow's cottage in Catherine street, Newport, R. I.

The cases were seized and opened and according to Freight Agent C. M. Barber, of the railroad company, were found to contain 29 cases of champagne, two cases weighing 110 pounds each, said to contain notions, but really containing cigars, and also several cases of cigars, a total of 2100 pounds.

SCHMITZ OUT

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER EXECUTIVE OF GOLDEN GATE.

Restoration of Good Government To San Francisco Is Now Being Pushed.

San Francisco, May 18.—Mayor Schmitz was formally removed from office by the supervisors. Supervisor James Gallagher was named as acting mayor in his place.

This is the first step taken by the graft prosecution in the execution of their plan to restore good government in this city. The ground on which Schmitz is removed is that owing to his incarceration in jail following his conviction on a felony charge he is no longer able to perform his official duties.

District Attorney Heney, Rudolph Spreckles and William H. Langdon, and their immediate associates in the bribery graft prosecution are by this move placed in actual control of the municipal situation.

Schmitz May Make Protest. That they will be allowed to so remain without a legal contest by the convicted man's attorneys is not expected. It is the plan of the prosecution to call for the resignation in a few days of one of the supervisors. This forthcoming, Acting Mayor Gallagher will appoint to the vacancy a man named by the district attorney. As soon as he takes office Gallagher will resign from the mayor's chair and his resignation will be accepted. The board, acting under orders from the prosecution, will then select a new member as president pro tempore and by virtue of the office he will at once become acting mayor.

PLEASES RUSSIA

DISSOLUTION OF DOUMA IS RECEIVED WITH RECIPROCITY.

True Russians Celebrate in Cathedrals and Progressives Are Stupefied.

Odessa, June 18.—News of the dissolution of the douma and the emperor's manifesto was received with stupefaction by the progressives here who had not expected abrogation of laws so far forced from the government, but provoked the highest enthusiasm from the union of true Russians, who celebrated the event with the sanction of the authorities.

Accompanied by Cossacks a band of true Russians marched in a procession to the cathedral where special services were held. They carried huge Russian banners and busts of high government officials. Owing to General Koubar's previous warning there were no excesses.

Since the dissolution of the douma the police have arrested more than 300 persons, including three professors, leaders of different radical parties and several families including a number of children. Koubar summoned before him all publishers and warned them against commenting on the dissolution; otherwise their publications would be suspended.

Although there are no strikes, disorders and terrorisms are increasing daily. Bombs have been thrown and persons assassinated in numbers.

FARMER RETIRES ON FORTUNE

Titled Small But Fertile Tract in Reading For Many Years.

Reading, Pa., June 18.—After tilling the soil for more than a quarter of a century and making it yield abundant crops, David K. Kaufman, a well known farmer of Riverside, this county, has retired from business. During all this time Mr. Kaufman tilled a small tract of land within the city limits and brought it up to a state of fertility that was marvelous. On ten acres he raised crops that brought him an annual income of $10,000.

When he purchased the place he had little money and knew little about farming. He read books on truck raising and got down to hard work. He learned rapidly and made money from the start. He leased the truck farm at first, but so rapid was his success that in 1887 he purchased it for $10,000. He was compelled to borrow the money, but within a few years paid it off. Two months ago he sold the farm to the Reading Realty company for $26,000.

When he first started he planted 15 rows of onions and a year ago he planted more than an acre of them. He planted from 700 to 1,300 heads of cabbages and last year raised 13,000 heads. A considerable part of his income was realized from the sale of vegetable plants. He sold 20,000 cabbage plants each spring and from 4,000 to 5,000 tomato plants each year. Most of them were shipped to other cities. Early tomato plants sold at 25 cents a dozen. Mr. Kaufman's seed bills alone amounted to about

MRS. A. M. HAGERMANN

ALL WOMEN SUFFER

from the same physical disturbances, and the nature of their duties, in many cases, quickly drift them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, organic troubles, ulceration, falling and displacements, or perhaps irregularity or suppression causing backache, nervousness, irritability, and sleeplessness. Women everywhere should remember that the medicine that holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female ills is made from simple native roots and herbs. For more than thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, regulating the functions perfectly and overcoming pain. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing for child birth and the Change of Life.

Mrs. A. M. Hagermann, of Bay Shore, L. I., writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I suffered from a displacement, excessive and painful functions so that I had to lie down or sit still most of the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman so that I am able to attend to my duties. I wish every suffering woman would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and see what relief it will give them.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female illness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. for advice. She is the Mrs. Pinkham who has been advising sick women free of charge for more than twenty years, and before that she assisted her mother-in-law Lydia E. Pinkham in advising. Therefore she is especially well qualified to guide sick women back to health.

$200 a year. His most profitable crops were lettuce, beets, onions, and rhubarb, all of which he raised by the acre. Horse radish was another profitable crop. Besides he sold from 60 to 75 bushels of sauer kraut a year. Mr. Kauffman thus expressed his views on farming: "My advice to a young man is to go into the truck business. He needs but little experience at the start. In starting a truck patch the first thing to be considered is whether the soil is adapted for the purpose. The ideal soil for growing vegetables is a sandy bottom underlaid with a heavy loam. If the soil is adapted to the business the next thing to be considered is the location. It should be along a southern slope. Again, it should not be too far from a market. Besides many a sale can be made if your customers know that your truck farm is near the city."

"When was their engagement made?" "While they were singing in the church choir." "What was the cause of their divorce?" "Singing in the church choir."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Dandelion

A SAFE AND SURE SPECIFIC FOR RHEUMATISM.

Guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drug Act, June 30, 1905. Serial Number 3517.

Rheumatism for the most part attacks the sinews and muscles of the body. Therefore the joints, the muscle casings and heart valves suffer most. Like gout this disease is caused by an excess of uric acid or blood poison in the system. Rheumatic pains sometimes change their location; wander from one part of the body to another and visit various joints in succession. The nature of this painful disease is still a matter of opinion, but certain remedies have been discovered that produce immediate and lasting relief, and many times a permanent cure. Probably the most important discovery made in this connection is the famous prescription from which Dr. Edwards' Compound Dandelion Tablets are prepared. Thousands of people have used this wonderful remedy for rheumatism and are now well and happy. It will pay you to get a box today.

J. W. YERKES HURT BY FALL.

Slips on Stairway of Hotel and Opium Are Administered.

Cincinnati, O., June 18.—John W. Yerkes, of Danville, Ky., who recently resigned as commissioner of Internal Revenue, is lying at the Shulton hotel under the care of two skilled physicians and a trained nurse. He fell this morning as he was descending the marble stairway of the hotel. He suffered intense pain until put under the influence of opiates. All callers were denied admittance to his room, the nurse stating that his injuries, while painful, are not of a serious character. Mr. Yerkes had planned to go to the Louisville state republican convention on Wednesday.

—Anyone who lives in furnished rooms or apartments should "keep one eye on the ads."

In the Beginning.

A friend of the family had been summoned to testify, much against his will, as to certain domestic disturbances in a Chicago household.

"You saw these blows administered?" asked the counsel.

"Yes, sir," replied the witness.

"Did you witness the beginning of the quarrel between Mr. and Mrs. Dash?"

"I did."

"When was it?"

"Six years ago."

"Six years ago? How is that possible?"

"I was a guest at their wedding," said the witness.—Success Magazine.

LOUISVILLE IS READY FOR MEET

Republican State Central Committee Busy

Bradley Will Be Permanent Chairman of Convention, Is the General Opinion.

THE DISTRICTS MUST GET BUSY.

Louisville, June 18.—With all indications pointing to a harmonious convention Wednesday, preparations are being made by the Republican state central committee as to the proceedings of that assembly. Meetings have been called for the committee, at which times the organization of the convention will be decided and the temporary officer, as well as the permanent, agreed upon. The popular choice for temporary chairman is John W. Yerkes, late commissioner of Internal Revenue, and it is practically certain that the Danville man will occupy that position if he attends until then choice for permanent chairman, former Gov. Bradley, is made.

The various district conventions will be called to decide on the make-up of the convention committees of the following: Credentials, permanent organization, organization, routine and order of business and resolutions. Each congressional district is entitled to one representative on each committee, and these will all be chosen Tuesday at some time. The temporary chairman will name two men on each committee from the state at large, and these formalities completed, all will be ready for the installation of the permanent chairman and the nominations.

Richard P. Ernst, chairman of the state central committee, will call the convention to order at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and ask for suggestions for temporary officers. A ticket determined upon at Tuesday night's session will be presented and accepted. Then permanent officers will be selected in the same way, after all matters that pertain have come before the temporary officers and the nominations will begin.

State conventions are always opened with prayer, and the affairs which properly come before the temporary chairman besides the appointment of the committees for the convention, are such as would pertain to credentials.

Headquarters for the delegates will be opened at the Coliseum on the morning of the convention, but the various districts will have their separate headquarters.

Putting Robert To Bed.

(Willbur Nesbit in "Success Magazine.")

"Papa!"

"Well?"

"Tell me a story."

"I'll tell you just one, if you will promise to go to sleep."

"My pajamas don't feel good."

"Don't think about them. I'll tell you a story, but one will be all."

Mr. Todd sat beside the bed and began:

"Once there was a little boy—"

"What's his name?"

"I forget."

"Didn't he have any name?"

"Yes, to be sure he had! Don't interrupt me, Robert."

"Why, his name was—his name was Julius."

"Julius is a girl's name."

"This boy's name was Julius, not Julia. He was named for Julius Caesar."

"I know something about Julius Caesar," Robert exclaimed, sitting up suddenly and quoting:

Julius Caesar—
Was a wise old geezer,
But he froze off his feet
In an ice cream freezer.
"Where did you ever hear such a thing as that?"

"Alfred Potts told it to me."

"Well, don't you ever let me hear you use that word 'geezer' again."

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER

Indigestion.

Show me a person who suffers from indigestion or dyspepsia and I will show you a person with the meanest disposition on earth. You can't blame them.

Nothing in the world takes all the cheer and brightness out of life like a balky stomach. People who suffer in this way feel out of humor, out of sorts and irritable all the time. They can't eat a meal without suffering intensely afterward. Their faces are usually covered with pimples and blotches. They always have headache, constipation, are tired and listless and as many whom I have talked to put it, "just feel mean and bad all over." They are always dosing themselves on pills and pre-digested foods and the like until they have so weakened their stomachs that they can't eat anything. It's all nonsense. I have seen and talked with people who had lived for months on milk and toast, take a bottle or two of Cooper's New Discovery and inside of two weeks sit down and eat a big meal at night then go to bed and sleep as well as any one. Here is one case I have in mind.

Mrs. E. Keogh, 1907 Ogden Ave., Superior, Wis., recently wrote me:

"No one knows what awful suffering I have endured from indigestion. My stomach would not digest the simplest foods and no matter what I ate I would be sure to suffer afterwards. I was also constipated and had queer dizzy spells and frightful headaches. Oft times I felt so badly that I could scarcely walk. I had taken Cooper's New Discovery but a short time when I noticed a decided improvement. Now I can truthfully say I feel greatly improved in every way and today for the first time in ten years I enjoyed a hearty meal. I am indeed very grateful to you."

The fact that Mr. Cooper's medicines enjoy larger sales than any others is proof of their great merit.

W. B. McPHERSON.

Now, go to sleep."

"But you didn't tell me the story."

"All right. Once there was a little boy named Julius—"

"Julius Caesar?"

"No, no. This isn't about Julius Caesar at all. Julius Caesar was a king, and he died a long time ago."

"When he froze his feet off, papa?"

"He didn't freeze his feet. That is a piece of silliness Alfred Potts told you."

"What is a piece of silliness, papa?"

"Don't ask me such foolish questions. Settle down and go to sleep, or I'll go back downstairs and leave you alone."

"Papa, my pajamas don't feel good."

"I told you not to think about them. Now, listen and I'll tell you about this little boy. He went out one day and saw—"

"Was his name Julius?"

"Yes, yes!" Mr. Todd answered. "His name was Julius and he—"

"Did he die a long time ago?"

"No, Julius Caesar died a long time ago. This boy didn't."

"Where does he live now?"

"I don't know. Be still."

"How'd you know what's his name, then?"

"Well, he lives—he lives in a town somewhere. And one day he went out and saw a tree that was simply full of birds. The birds—"

"What did the birds do?"

"The birds sang, of course."

"What did they sing?"

"They sang songs. Now, if you want me to tell you this story, you will have to be quiet. So this boy looked up at the birds, and—"

"My pajamas don't feel good."

"They never will feel good if you don't stop thinking about them. So this boy looked up at the birds, and—"

"—he was a bad boy—and he thought it would be smart to throw a stone at them."

"Did he?"

"Yes, he threw a stone at the poor little birds."

"And what did the stone do?"

"It made the birds fly. And then—"

"Papa."

"Well?"

"What did the fly do?"

"What fly?"

"The fly it made the birds into."

"Robert Gallahue Todd, I am going downstairs, and if you are not asleep in two minutes I shall punish you!"

Mr. Todd strode from the room, and at the stairs he halted, at the sight of a woman sitting on the top step with her face in her hands and her shoulders and sides shaking. It was his wife.

—Success.

"I hear Col. Bourbon's left arm was cut off in the railway accident."

"Yes, suh, a most unfortunate occurrence, but fortunately his drinking arm was entirely uninjured."

—Life.

"Have you sold your country villa yet?"

"No; I'm not going to sell it now."

"How's that?"

"Well, I gave instructions to an agent to advertise it for sale and the description he wrote of it was so enchanting that I couldn't make up my mind to part with it."

—Pele Mele.

Era of Good Feeling in Railroad Business Predicted by Chairman

Washington, D. C., June 18.—An era of good feeling between the railroads and the public, with consequent beneficial effect upon the material welfare of the United States is predicted by Martin A. Knapp, chairman of the interstate commerce commission. In an interview today he expressed the belief that present railway conditions would improve, that in his opinion an abundance of capital would be found in time to make the needed extensions and improvements to carry on the constantly growing trade of the country. He declared that in the future, if he read the signs of the times aright, railroad men would be found giving their support, instead of opposing, well considered measures, having for their purpose the federal regulation or control of commerce between the states. Chairman Knapp believes there will be supplemental railroad legislation, but that it will have the approval of the railroad men as well as the public. He expressed the opinion that a well considered law regulating the issue of future securities would in effect give an official to the certificates that would greatly aid in their sale by the assurance thereby given to the buyer. Mr. Knapp said it was his belief that the general railroad situation would improve. He pointed out that confidence in the integrity and value of leading railroad securities had been restored and that the danger of further drastic legislation by the state seems nearly to have disappeared.

"Already, I think," he continued, "there is a permanent belief that some legislation has been unwise. It is very plain to me that within recent years there has been a vast improvement in the methods of railway management as respects the obligations of the railways to the public."

"It is coming to be understood as a part of the habitual thought of our people that the right to use the facilities of public carriages is a political right rather than a contract right; and, therefore, any preference or advantage given to one person or one class of persons is a distinct invasion of the political rights of all other persons. The general result is that today, for the first time in the history of American railways, secret preferences and advantages have practically disappeared."

Mr. Knapp indorsed the proposal to exempt railways from the operation of the Sherman anti-trust law to the extent at least of permitting them to make pooling arrangements subject to certain restrictions. The belief prevails in some quarters that, if pooling were permitted, under government supervision a step would thus be taken in the direction of nullifying the anti-trust act as far as the railroads are concerned, thereby removing the inconsistencies in the enforcement of the act to regulate commerce and the act aimed at combinations in restraint of trade.

BANKHEAD CHOSEN

To Serve in Place of Senator Morgan Until Legislature Meets.

Birmingham, Ala., June 18.—Gov. Comer, who is in Birmingham, this morning appointed former Congressman John H. Bankhead to the vacancy in the United States senate from Alabama caused by the death of Senator John T. Morgan, the appointment to hold until the legislature meets July 19.

Col. Bankhead ran first in the Democratic primary for alternate senator last August. He served twenty years as a member of the house of representatives from the Sixth Alabama district, and was defeated last year by Capt. Richmond P. Hobson.

Origin of Barbed Wire.

"The luckiest invention in history," said a patent official, "was that of barbed wire. It came about by accident."

"Isaac L. Ellwood was the inventor of barbed wire. In his youth he lived in De Kalb, Ill., and having a neighbor whose pigs trespassed on his garden, he put up one day a wire fence of his own make. This fence had barbs and points on it; it was queer and ugly; but it kept out the pigs."

"It was a real barbed wire fence, the first in the world, and there was millions of money in it, but young Ellwood and his friends laughed at its freak appearance."

"One day two strangers saw this fence, perceived how well it kept out the pigs, realized how cheap it was, realized, in a word, its value and ordered several tons of it from Ellwood. Furthermore, they contracted to sell for a term of years all the barbed wire he could produce."

"Ellwood borrowed $1,000 and set up a little factory. A few years later on he had paid back that loan and was worth a small matter of $15,000,000 besides."—New York Press.

"I guess we will have to have this sofa reseatd, Bill," said Mrs. Jones. "I wish we had our gas bill receipted," said her spouse. They were the fond parents of a daughter who was keeping company.

HIS SECOND FALL BREAKS THE BONE IN SAME PLACE.

In a fall last evening about 6:50 o'clock Master Emmett Quick, the 10-year-old son of Mrs. Lizzie Quick, 822 Jefferson street, sustained a fracture of his left leg at the same place it was broken six weeks ago when he fell from a step-ladder and broke his left leg just below the hip. Sunday was the first day he was able to be about on crutches. The little fellow was walking about the house last evening when he came to some steps. Thinking some one was behind him he released his crutches and fell, breaking the bone at the same place it was healing. Today he is resting well, but the surgeon does not expect him to be up again for eight weeks.

The KING of DIAMONDS.

By Louis Tracy,
Author of "Wings of the Morning," "The Pillar of Light," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1904, BY EDWARD J. CLODE.

all because a scheming woman was too clever to tell her solicitors the exact reason for her anxiety concerning the whereabouts of Mrs. Anson and her son.

The boy passed a dolorous Saturday night and Sunday. Nevertheless the order, the cleanliness, the comparative comfort of a prison were not wholly ungrateful to him. His meals, though crude, were wholesome, luxurious even, compared with the privations he had endured during the previous fortnight. The enforced rest, too, did him good, and, being under restraint, he had nothing to do but eat, take exercise, read a few books provided for him and sleep.

With Monday came a remarkable change in his fare. A plump first rate cocoa and some excellent bread and butter for breakfast evoked no comment on his part, but a dinner of roast beef, potatoes, cabbage and rice pudding was so extremely unlike prison diet that he questioned the turnkey.

"It's all right, kid," came the brief answer. "It's paid for. Eat while you can and ask no questions."

"But—"

The door slammed, and at the next meal Philip received in silence a cup of tea and a nice tea cake. This went on during three days. The good food and rest had already worked a marvelous change in his appearance. He entered the prison looking like a starved dog. When he rose on the Thursday morning and washed himself, no one would have recognized him as the same boy who it was not for his clothes.

After dinner he was tidying his cell and replacing the plates and the rest on a tray when the door was suddenly flung open, and a warder cried:

"Come along, Morland. You're wanted at the court."

"At the court?" he could not help saying. "This is only Thursday."

"What a boy you are for arguing! Pick up your hat and come. Your carriage waits, my lord. I hope you will like your quarters as well when you come back. A pretty stir you have made in the papers the last five days."

Philip glanced at the man, who seemed to be in a good humor.

"I will not come back," he said quietly, "but I wish you would tell me who supplied me with food while I have been here."

They were passing along a lofty corridor, and there was no superior officer in sight. The warder laughed.

"I don't know, my lord," he said, "but the men came from the Royal Star hotel, opposite."

Philip obtained no further news. He passed through an office, a voucher was signed for him, and he emerged into the prison yard, where the huge prison was awaited him. He was the only occupant, just as on the first memorable ride in that conveyance. When he came to the prison from the police court he had several companions in misery, but they were "stretched." His case was the only "remand."

During the long drive Philip endeavored to guess the cause of this unexpected demand for his presence. Naturally, he assumed that Johnson's Mews no longer held safe the secret of his meteor. Such few sensational romances as he had read credited detectives with superhuman sagacity. In his mind, Johnson's Mews was the center of the world. It enshrined the marvelous—how could it escape the thousands of prying eyes that daily passed through the great thoroughfare of the East End but a few yards away? Judging from the remark dropped by the warder, all London was talking about him. A puzzling feature was the abundant supply of good food sent to him in prison. Who was his unknown friend—and what explanation was attached to the incident?

Philip's emotions were no more capable of analysis than a display of rockets. Immured in this cage, rattling over the pavements, he seemed to be advancing through a tunnel into an unknown world.

At last the van stopped, and he was led forth into the yard of the police court. He followed the same route as on the previous Saturday, but when he ascended into the court itself he discovered a change. The magistrate, a couple of clerks and some policemen alone were present. The general public and the representatives of the press were not visible.

He had scarcely faced the bench when the magistrate said:

"You are set at liberty. The police withdraw the charge against you."

Philip's eyes sparkled, and his breast heaved tumultuously. For the life of him he could utter no word, but Mr. Abington helped him by quietly directing the usher to permit the lad to leave the dock and take a seat at the solicitors' table.

Then, speaking slowly and with some gravity, he said:

"Philip Morland—that is the only name by which I know you—the authorities have come to the conclusion that your story is right. You have unquestionably found a deposit of diamonds, and, although this necessarily exists on some person's property, there is no evidence to show whose property it is. It may be your own. It may be situated beyond the confines of this kingdom. There are many hypotheses, each of which may be true; but, in any event, if others lay claim to this treasure trove and I warn you that the crown has a right in such a matter—the issue is a civil and not a criminal one. Therefore you are discharged and your property is now handed back to you intact."

A clerk placed before Philip his parcel of diamonds, his key, the rusty knife, the pieces of string and the two buttons—truly a motley collection. The boy was pale and his voice somewhat tremulous as he asked:

"May I go now, sir?"

Mr. Abington leaned back in his chair and passed his hand over his face to conceal a smile.

"I have something more to say to you," he answered. "It is an offense against the law to withhold your name and address. I admit the powerful motives which actuated you, so I make the very great concession that your earlier refusal will be overlooked if you privately tell me that which you were unwilling to state publicly."

Philip instantly decided that it would be foolish in the extreme to refuse this offer. He pocketed his diamonds, looked the magistrate straight in the face and said:

"I will do that, sir. As the information is to be given to you alone, may I write it?"

The policemen and other officials sniggered at this display of caution, but the magistrate nodded, and Philip wrote his name and address on a sheet of foolscap, which he folded before handing it to the usher.

To his great surprise, Mr. Abington placed the paper in a pocketbook without opening it.

"I will make no use of this document unless the matter comes before me again officially. I wish to point out to you that I have brought you from prison at the earliest possible moment and have spared you the publicity which your movements would attract were your case settled in open court. You are not aware perhaps that you figure largely in the eyes of the public at this moment. There are newspapers which would give a hundred pounds to get hold of you. There are thieves who would shadow your every movement, waiting for a chance to waylay and rob you—murder you if necessary. I have taken precautions, therefore, to safeguard you, at least within the precincts of this court, but I cannot be responsible beyond its limits. May I ask what you intend to do?"

Philip, proud in the knowledge that he was cleared of all dishonor, was at a loss for words now.

"First I wish to thank you, sir," he said. "You have acted most kindly toward me, and when I am older I hope to be permitted to acknowledge your thoughtfulness better than is possible today. I will endeavor to take care of myself. I am going now to see Mr. Isaacsstein. I do not expect that he will send for a policeman again. If he does, I will bring him before you."

The magistrate himself laughed at this reply.

"You are a strange boy," he said. "I think you are acting wisely. But—er—you have no money—that is, in a sense. Hatton Garden is some distance from here. Let me—er—lend you a cab fare."

"Thank you, sir," said Philip. And Mr. Abington, unable to account for the interest he felt in the boy, quite apart from his inexplicable story, gave him 5 shillings and shook hands with him.

For the CHAFING DISH Denatured Alcohol

We take pleasure in announcing that we now have Denatured Alcohol for our trade. It is to be used for burning purposes only, as nearly every one now knows, but for use in the arts and mechanics it is the most economical and satisfactory fuel known.

Cheaper than wood alcohol, it also burns without any of its offensive odor. Next time try it in your chafing dish or alcohol heater; it will be a revelation to you. Be sure to phone WINSTEAD'S, for no other Paducah druggist handles it.

MAYOR SAYS BUY REAL STONE

Another franchise for the operation of a telephone system will be sold in Paducah. This was the recommendation of City Solicitor Campbell at the meeting of the board of councilmen last night, and the ordinance committee was instructed to bring in the ordinance. In the proceedings the city solicitor said it would be necessary for the city to offer a franchise for sale and this would get around the point of the East Tennessee Telephone officials stating they never had the opportunity to purchase one.

Tyler, as mentioned in The Sun several months ago, wants to be annexed by the city, and last night the first notice officially was given the city. Councilman Wilson had a paper handed him by one citizen of Tyler, but as this was not a request signed by a number of the residents, a special committee composed of Councilmen Wilson, Mayor, and Flournoy, was appointed to confer with the citizens of Tyler.

Better fire protection is needed on North Fifth street between Clay and Trimble streets. Riverside hospital is on the street and the property owners on the other side of the street are desirous that the water mains be extended. At present water is supplied by a small pipe from another main, and the mayor thought it imperative that the mains be extended, so that Riverside hospital may be protected better in case of fire. The water company will be requested to lay the mains.

Considerable discussion was caused by the extension of Jackson street. Councilman Crandell was vigorous in his fight that the street be extended straight. Mr. Wheeler owns the property necessary to extend the street straight and it would necessitate the city purchasing four lots at a total expense of $1,200, and the street committee hardly thought this expenditure expedient when property could be bought cheaper by making a short bend. Councilman Crandell, representing the people of that section of the city, said they want the street cut through straight. He made the motion that a special committee be appointed to take action before any purchase of property is made. The committee was appointed as follows: Councilmen Foreman, Crandell and Van Meter.

At this point City Engineer Washington suggested that real estate agents, plotting their additions, be required to have the city ratify them. This was a fine suggestion, admitted the city solicitor, but no one could prevent anyone from plotting his own property as he wanted to. However, the city may refuse to accept property if the streets are crooked.

Mayor Likes Real Stone.
Concrete curbs have not proven as satisfactory as stone, according to Mayor Yeiser, who suggested since so many improvements have been passed with curbing, that the stone be used as the city's experience has proven the stone to be more durable and the expense not much greater. The street and ordinance committees were given the question to report back what they deem best.

A paper was read, asking that Dr. J. T. Reddick be appointed to take the place of Dr. J. G. Brooks on the hospital board. About 30 doctors signed the petition which was received and filed.

Final passage was given ordinances for the grading and graveling of Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets in the Glenwood addition. First reading was given a year ago, but the city's finances were low and the work was never started.

Second passage was given ordinances providing for sidewalks on Jefferson street, between Ninth and Eleventh streets.

Report was made that the city is removing its wires from the poles of the East Tennessee Telephone company's poles.

Coal dealers were present at last night's meeting to see if some action for the improvement of alleys could not be taken. Mr. W. Y. Noble was their spokesman and stated the condition of the alleys and asked that immediate action be taken. It was referred to the street and ordinance committees.

Hackmen asked that they be allowed to raise the hack fee, since the price of feed has gone up and the price of feed has gone up, and the price is fixed by ordinance. Their request was referred to the ordinance committee.

Residents on South Eighth street, beyond Tennessee street, want sidewalks, and do not want them to end at Tennessee street. The matter was referred to the street committee and city engineer to see if it is advisable to make the extension.

When Broadway is improved beyond Fifteenth street the city engineer finds the grade will make the abutting property lower than the street in some places and in other places the street will be lower. The street committee and city engineer were instructed to meet and search for a way out of the difficulty.

Several changes of ownership of lots in Oak Grove cemetery were ratified. Little more room remains in the colored section of Oak Grove cemetery. The matter was referred to the cemetery committee.

J. T. Quarles wanted a license to retail liquors on the east side of the Union station.

Councilman Herzog was the absentee at last night's meeting.

A communication was read, asking that Owen Woolfolk be excused from paying poll tax. The request was referred to the finance committee.

Bodies of Three Victims of Launch
Accident Recovered, Though Mutilated.

Newport News, Va., June 18.—Clad in full uniform and with face and hands fearfully mutilated, the bodies of Midshipmen P. H. Field, Virginia; W. H. Stevens, North Carolina; and F. P. Holcombe, Delaware, were found in Chesapeake Bay. The bodies after being examined and identified, were taken by the naval tug Potomac to the naval hospital, Portsmouth. The bodies were found floating in the bay.

Tomorrow all vessels of the fleet will have flags at half mast. The bodies of four of the 11 men drowned in the Minnesota's launch a week ago tonight have now been found. The one discovered in the launch was that of Fireman G. W. Westfall. The bodies of three midshipmen and four seamen are still missing.

On account of the fact that the bodies found today had drifted 10 or 12 miles from the scene of the tragedy gives rise to the fear that all of them will never be found.

His mother recently filed suit for divorce from her husband, Mr. Armstead Cowell, of Twenty-fourth street and Broadway, and went to Fulton to live. A few days later the husband went to Fulton and brought the boy back to Paducah. Mrs. Cowell will arrive tomorrow or tomorrow and reside with her children at Twenty-fourth street and Broadway until her suit for divorce in circuit court is settled one way or the other. She comes back to care for the children, and asks in her petition for the custody of all four of them.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE ABOUT THE STREET CARS

A conference was held yesterday afternoon between 12 business men, representative of the district east of Third street, with Manager Blecker of the traction company, to find a solution of street car schedules that would run the cars on all the lines to the river. No definite plan was reached and the business men's committee was cut down to three, Messrs. J. A. Rudy, R. B. Phillips and Jake Wallerstein. They will meet with Manager Blecker Friday afternoon for another conference.

PENNSY SEEKING OUTLET TO SOUTH

May Combine With L. & N. to Parallel I. C.

Would Give Competing Line From Cincinnati To Gulf and Make Strong Bid for Business.

PLANS FOR THE COMBINATION

According to reliable information one of the biggest railroad mergers for some time will be pulled off within the near future when the Pennsylvania lines and the Louisville & Nashville railroad consolidate and put in a strong bid for the business that will come with the opening of the Panama canal.

Plans looking to this end are said to be maturing in New York and the proposed consolidation is feasible and with a line that would virtually parallel the Illinois Central from Cincinnati to New Orleans and with a New York connection the new interests would form one of the strongest competitors that the Illinois Central has in the south. The report also included the C. H. & D. road, which would put the consolidated road away out in the northwest, but according to well informed railroad officials it is understood that while the consolidation of the Pennsylvania and the L. & N. is possible it is hardly probable that the holders of the C. H. & D. stock would allow it to come into the associated interests of the other two lines.

The Panama canal has caused the officials to cast a longing glance in the direction of the southern gulf ports and it is at all possible to combine interests so as to get an entrance into the south and at the same time maintain a hold on the business in the eastern section several important railroad deals will be made.

The combined mileage of the roads operated and leased by the L. & N. and Pennsylvania lines is 11,957, while if the C. H. & D. is included there would be a big trunk line system with over 12,957 miles of track over which to operate.

The interstate commerce commission has promulgated a uniform system of accounts for railroads, provided for under the railroad rate law passed at the last session of congress. The system will go into effect July 1, covering operating revenue and operating expenses, and thereafter railroads will be compelled to file monthly reports.

CHICAGO SANDOW WINS IN THE WRESTLING MATCH

Chicago Sandow won over Hermann Santello in a wrestling match at Eagles' Hall last night, securing two out of three falls. The crowd was large. The purse was $100. The Chicago wrestler last week secured one clean down against the European wrestler within an hour, winning the match, Santello agreeing to throw him twice within an hour. Last night was an equal match, the best two out of three falls, and the first fall was credited to the Chicago man, who accomplished it in seven minutes and 35 seconds. Santello got the second down but the Chicago wrestler was credited with the third fall. Santello questioned the work of the umpire, alleging that he was not a professional, and capable of judging properly. Another match will probably be arranged in a few days.

Many a man's nervousness is due to his lack of nerve.

RIVER NEWS

River Stages.
Cairo	38.4	9.1 rise
Chattanooga	15.0	0.3 fall
Cincinnati	41.4	1.6 fall
Evansville	30.5	1.4 rise
Florence	7.3	0.2 rise
Johnsonville	11.0	0.5 fall
Louisville	16.7	0.8 rise
Mt. Carmel	8.3	0.5 fall
Nashville	11.7	1.7 fall
Pittsburg	6.2	2.3 fall
St. Louis	22.0	1.0 fall
Mt. Vernon	28.2	1.0 rise
Paducah	28.5	0.2 fall

'Tis a tale briefly told, the news of the rivers today. A slackening in the rise in the river indicates a fall unless more rain comes along to boost it. It would be necessary to go back to June of 1903 to find a stage as high as the stage today, 28.5. The river never got over 10 feet in the same month last year, and the stage on June 18 last year was 8.2.

Upsetting calculations, the Saitillo arrived last night at 8 o'clock from the Tennessee river, and left an hour or so later for St. Louis.

The most interesting piece of news on the river front today, at least to the ways men, is the birth of five puppies. They are fancy colors.

The Clyde came in last night at 1 o'clock from the Tennessee river with a good trip for Brookport, and left early this morning for that point. The Clyde will leave Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock for the Tennessee river.

The John Hopkins was in from Evansville today and when next seen will have an Evansville crowd aboard for the Hustlers' convention at Cairo. The John Hopkins will stay at Cairo until Saturday.

The City of Savannah will arrive late tonight or in the morning from St. Louis for the Tennessee river.

After taking on several car loads of freight at Joppy, the Joe Wheeler returned today and will leave Wednesday at noon for Chattanooga.

The Georgia Lee will leave Memphis this evening for Cincinnati, passing here Thursday afternoon.

No Cumberland river boat until Thursday, when the Dunbar will arrive from Nashville and return to that city.

The towboats will arrive all in a bunch the last part of this week, bringing thousands of dollars worth of ties with them.

The Dick Fowler left on time this morning for Cairo and will get back in time tonight for the Chautauqua.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio at Evansville and Mt. Vernon will continue rising during the next two days. At Paducah and Cairo will continue rising slowly during the next two days.

The Tennessee from Florence to below Riverton, will rise during the next 36 to 48 hours, passing the 8-foot stage at Florence. At Johnsonville will continue falling slowly during the next 12 to 24 hours, then rise.

The Mississippi from below St. Louis to below Chester, will fall during the next 36 hours. From Cape Girardeau to Cairo, will continue rising during the next 12 to 24 hours.

The Wabash at Mt. Carmel, will continue falling.

BAR MEN WITH BUT ONE CHILD

Families in County Where Six Is Low Limit Frown on Indian.

Charlotte, Tenn., June 18.—Because he had only one child an Indiana man named John Namm, who moved here recently from Mount Vernon, was ostracized by residents of Charlotte, who pointed him out as a horrible example of race suicide. Things were made so unpleasant for Namm that he and his wife and child left town after a stay here of three weeks, going to Milan, Tenn. Every family in this county has at least six children in it. Sixteen boys and two girls call J. N. Parrotte papa; Alexander Cunningham has 12 children, and Pitts Powers, according to the latest local census, has 13.

Another Body Recovered.
Norfolk, June 18.—The body of Midshipman Ulrich, one of the victims of the wreck of the Minnesota's launch, was recovered today, making five in all. Official investigation of the accident is now being made.

Newspaper Reporting in Frisco.

Newspaper men in San Francisco are treading no flowery path in getting the news of the traction strike out there, according to the Frisco papers. One reporter, in getting up a "special" on the strike, also collected a miscellaneous assortment of bruises and lacerations from stones and clubs in the hands of the strikers. A photographer was in the middle of another battle, and had a man shot down beside him, who, in falling, knocked over his camera. Another photographer was mobbed, and some of his best plates were broken. Still another reporter was shot at by a strikebreaker. At a meeting of the strikers the reporters were thrown out and told if they came around again their heads would be beaten in. They attended the next meeting, just the same, hiding in the flies of the theater where the gathering was held while the strikers went looking around behind the scenes with large sections of gas pipe. The papers the next day carried a full and accurate, if not complimentary story of the meeting.—New York Tribune.
